Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others, and needs but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life-like appearance to any artificial teeth in use.

None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. SUCCESSES OF THE WAR.—The substantial successes of the war are thus summed up by a New York paper:

The Confederates, though they recently invaded Maryland in force, and have made petty raids into Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, etc., do not hold at this hour a single foot of territory outside of what they claim as their own, nor do they seriously threaten to acquire any.

After having for months desperately contested the great State of Missouri, fought many important battles therein—some of them successfully—they have been driven out of it, so that only two or three guerrilla bands of no importance now lurk in its swamps or forests and occasionally steal out to commit depredations.

Kentucky has in like manner been in good part under rebel domination, not only last winter but again two months ago. Now they are wholly expelled from it, and likely to remain so.

Tennessee is one of the States most important to the Slaveholder's Confederacy. Half of it, including the two most important cities, Nashville and Memphis, have been held for the Union throughout the last six months, and we are on the point of trying to reclaim the residue.

Virginia is the most populous State belonging to Jeff's Confederacy, and includes his metropolis. Very nearly half of it is now in Union hands, including the cities of Norfolk and Wheeling, while its chief fortress, Monroe, has never yet seen a rebel flag floating from its walls. We expect to have a good deal more of it before the year is out.

Of North Carolina, the Union has held Albemarle and the connected Sounds, with their islands and the beach outside, Forts Hatteras and Macon, the cities of Newbern and Washington, with a considerable strip of the main land, for several months, almost without resistance. We hold also the water line of transit thence to Hampton Roads through the Dismal Swamp Canal.

Of South Carolina, we hold the Sea Islands, including the forts built by the rebels to guard the entrance to Port Royal inlet or sound.

Of Georgia, we have long held Fort Pulaski, commanding the watery way to Savannah, and the Islands of Tybee, St. Simons, etc., are actually or virtually in our possession. The whole coast, with its inlets and mouths of rivers, is in our possession.

Nearly all the seaports of Florida—Pensacola, St. Augustin, etc.—have long been in Union hands. All the fortifications, also—Fort Pickens, Fort Taylor, the Tortugas—are and ever have been Union.

Of Texas, we have Galveston and most of the seaports. We can take the residue when we choose, with little effort.

Of Louisiana, we hold Forts St. Philip and Jackson, which guard the ascent of the Mississippi, with New Orleans, the chief mart of the Southwest, and a large area of the adjacent sugar-growing region. And we have held the city and the forts more than half a year undisputedly.

We hold a considerable strip of Northern Mississippi, and have a victorious army there ready to fight all comers, only the rebels insist on being guers instead.

Ditto as to Arkansas.

We have quiet possession of all New Mexico and Arizona, which, one year since, were mainly in the possession of a triumphant rebel force.

This is also the fact as to the Indian Territory.

It thus appears that nearly one-third of the population, and more than a third the area claimed by the Confederacy, are to-day under Union control; most of it won by hard fighting within the past year. New Orleans, St. Louis, Louisville, Memphis, Galveston, Santa Fe, Lexington, Norfolk, Newbern, Pensacola—all these are claimed as belonging to the Confederacy, and most of them have been held by it; but they are now all Union. More than one million people who were under the Confederate flag a year ago, now peacefully repose under the Union eagles. And we are on the point of "marching on," with larger and better disciplined armies than ever before.

THURSDAY MORNING JAN 15 1863

Wranglings among Military Men

The recriminations and disputes among Union Generals that have been made public from time to time are in the most of instances those who are at heart opposed to the Union cause It appears that the fraternity has this class of people that the Generals have disputes among themselves quite as bitter as those of the Secessionists Many of their Generals have been blamed for their inaction in certain battles while we were censuring our commanders for their share in the same actions Of this Bull and Bragg are a proof The Confederates abused Bragg without stint for retreating from Kentucky and we did the same by Buell for not capturing the Confederate army of invasion Of the two Bragg appears to have been the least worthy of censure The Confederate General Robert E Lee in the month of June, 1861 retired from active service from the Confederate armies, and it was thought that he would not again participate in the war The fact is notorious that Jeff Davis was for a long time and perhaps is now, hostile to the Virginian officers. Beauregard pets the South Carolinians and is hostile to all others, except some of his Louisiana friends Bishop-General Leonidas Polk had a terrible row with Gideon J Pillow, when the latter proposed to stretch a chain across the Mississippi at Columbus Polk said that he had always believed Pillow to be a fool, but never had certain proof of it before Price denounced the Louisiana Tigers on the battle field at Wilson's Creek, and quarreled with Van Dorn on the retreat from Pea Ridge Gen Tilghman challenged Pillow because he had made free with Tilghman's name about the Fort Henry capitulation, and H. A Wise was denounced as a coward for his share in the battle of Roanoke Island On that occasion Wise was on the mainland, in hearing of the fight, and never came near to participate in it. Van Dorn and Price were denounced without stint, by the Southerners, for the defeat at Corinth, and Gen Pemberton called Gen Mansfield Lovell a scavenger Above all, Gen Albert Sidney Johnston—the man whose weight of character lent as much respectability to the Confederate cause as treason can ever have, was denounced in the vilest terms by the Confederate press for the loss of Fort Donelson and the disasters of the Confederates at the opening of last year To-day the structures of the Richmond press on Jeff Davis are second only in virulence to those of the semi traitors of New York and the complete traitors of the Oregon toad stool species, on Mr Lincoln

We mention these facts to show that the Unionists are not alone in this matter of criticising or condemning their leading military men and intend incidentally to show that the rule holds good in relation to civilians as well Perhaps it may appear that the procedure is more indulged in at the North than at the South, but that arises from the fact that we have more Union than Secession papers the circulation amongst us Circumstances prove that whatever division there may be among the people of either section, the conduct of their affairs, at this time, are to that effect hereby In the past, however, the evidence out little doubt that the Union has got from the disputes among its military men tens of thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of dollars

FRATERNAL —Judge Turney and Governor Wm Pickering of Washington Territory, were first friends in Illinois but after their arrival on this coast 'a row,' as the Scotch say, grew up between them In those palmy days of their Secker experiences they were Damon and Pythias revived in Turney and Pickering now they are opposites of the most enduring nature two political comets rushing wildly from their elliptic orbits to put each other in danger to each other and likely to clash things if they are not restrained Turney calls his old time friend, "one Pickering," and uses other phrases of a disrespectful nature, which we have before copied How the Governor resents this we are not informed but doubtless he is sufficiently wrathy about it to feel very warm and very uncomfortable Alas! that friendship should thus delay, and hatred replace it

A COMPLIMENT.—The Washington Territory Legislature has appropriated $500 to buy a stand of colors for the First Regiment of Washington Territory Volunteers A memorial was also adopted setting forth the efficiency of this regiment, and asking its adoption into the line of the army at the disbandment of the volunteer forces now in the field

THE SOUND MAILS —It appears that Mr Keach, of Steilacoom the new contractor for the Sound mail routes has received no official information that the routes have been awarded to him For this reason he has been making no preparations to carry them The old contract has expired

DANGEROUS —The Jacksonville Sentinel says that Jackson county has one thousand voters in it, and that five men have been killed in it during the past year in fights and quarrels This is one town hundred It is justly said to be a dangerous community

An unasked for supply of cotton has suggested itself to the spinners of Rochdale in putting a general battue among the owners of mattresses and bedding stuffed with that article in almost every household Immense stores of the welcome material have come to the market from those hidden recesses

Mail Route No 278, in Washington Territory, from Port Madison by Mucklestone Island, to Coupeville and back, once a week, has been let to Cosgrove and Montfort, of the former place, for $1,500 per annum, for three years The contractors have already entered upon the performance of their duties

A touching proof of the depth of woman's love was witnessed at Canterbury, Conn, recently, at the funeral of Sergeant Charles Lewis who was killed at Antietam A young lady, Miss Hyde to whom he was engaged up in hearing of his death, was taken fatally sick and died in a few days and was buried at the same time as her lover

The Agricultural Department has recently received the most gratifying accounts of the successful cultivation of Imphee sugar in Illinois and other Western States One farmer in the former State during the last season, produced four tons of this product, which he says is the most profitable crop he can put in the ground

From this time forward it is a punishable offence to refuse to take greenbacks at par in Washington Territory. The penalty is $500 fine or six months imprisonment in the county jail The law will either prove a dead letter, or some financial arrangement will have to be made by which the price of everything in the Territory may change with each fluctuation of the Government paper

The Secesh have a great deal to say about Gen Butler, for supporting 10,000 negroes at New Orleans, while, at the same time, he was feeding 30,000 whites, the families of rebels who are in arms against the law As a question of humanity, the claim of all men for charity is the same, and the starving black has the same right to our sympathies as those of our own race who are suffering

At an inquest in London on the body of a child, who died from insufficient food, it was elicited from the testimony of the mother that she (the mother) had to support herself and five children on such an income as could be derived from making flannel shirts for three pence apiece, she finding needles and thread The united labor of the whole family working the entire day and the greater part of the night enabled them to make three shirts

B. F KENDALL —In Washington Standard of the 10th inst, contains the following notice of the career of B F Kendall

The deceased was one of our earliest and most prominent citizens He came to this Territory in 1853 as an assistant on the Northern Pacific Railroad Expedition in charge of the late Gov Isaac I Stevens He was Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Territory, the first two sessions of our Legislative Assembly, Prosecuting Attorney of this Judicial District for several years, Territorial Librarian, and late Superintendent of Indian Affairs of this Territory He generally acquitted himself in such a way as to satisfy the public mind he was fully competent for the performance of the duties with which he might be entrusted None will deny that he possessed administrative ability of high order, and his zeal and industry in carrying out his line of adopted policy will be conceded by all

Mr Kendall was emphatically a self made man In early life, by his own earnings as a teacher, he paved the way for the acquisition of a collegiate education, in that first class temple of learning Bowdoin College, in his native State of Maine from which he graduated with high distinction in 1852

As a lawyer, he stood among the foremost in rank of the profession in this Territory Took well stored mind, and highly educated intellect, he added indomitable will and energy, intense application and industry in performing all he undertook He was well calculated to distinguish himself at the Bar, and has left proofs of ability and professional success His language was ready and fluent, forcible in expressing his thoughts and he was happy in clothing his ideas in the language most appropriate to convey his meaning To the Court, none better than he could successfully state his propositions or views As a controversial debater, he had no superiors at the Bar and he powerfully drew to his aid, in the elucidation of a theory the varied information which years of hard study and devotion to his books had afforded him

CORRECTION —The Washington Standard says that Messrs Potter Fletcher, Longmyre and Perrin, voted to lay the Union resolutions introduced in the Washington Legislature on the 24th ult, on the table in order to have them printed so that they might be amended, and asks us to correct the impression that these gentlemen opposed the resolutions as they were. This we cheerfully do

USURY LAW —The Legislature of Washington Territory have made a law fixing the rates of interest at ten per cent a year and making it punishable to charge more The law is nearly the same as that existing in Oregon on the same subject

REBEL THREATS OF RETALIATION —The Louisville Journal advises Jefferson Davis to take Gen Jeff Davis for hostage and to hang ten Union officers if Gen McNeil who caused ten guerillas to be shot in Missouri, is not given up The Journal does not uphold the act of Gen McNeil but thus brings home to the rebel authorities more of their numerous barbarous deeds

For the Pardoning of the rebel confederacy ponder what brave people have done It is all off Jefferson Davis has given him to pretend to regard with horror the shooting of the ten Missouri citizens He knows that Kirby Smith hung fifteen innocent persons near Cumberland Gap, and tumbled them into a hole not even giving them a shroud after the awful deed He knows that scouts sent out by Price were forthwith shot or hung Lieutenants upon any other pretext that they had fired upon the United States troops near New Orleans He knows that from Fort Donelson to Memphis under circumstances that would do the hell of the Indian run He knows that his guerillas in Kentucky Missouri and Tennessee murder Union men, plunder unarmed citizens, burn houses, rob stores, collect the regular habit of living out of the houses robbing them to the skin, plundering and taking them out and hanging them to the first tree, creeping all over this our land like the seven plagues of Egypt, weeping wives and children in the most of their shrieking children He knows that hundreds and hundreds of murders of this kind have been committed by his men and still continue to be committed daily and nightly He knows all this and he knows that the United States authorities have never demanded the surrender of the perpetrators of the bloody horrors even of retaliation He knows that the United States could retaliate to the fullest extent, perhaps Gen rule perhaps Old rule perhaps Magee shall be massacred unless a surrender shall be made that he is fully aware completely of this and thus by this test inaugurate a clean fair warfare which as conducted on both sides shall mollify and appall the natures of the combatants Intervention Our Government may have need of the highest wisdom in determining its action in view of these things

IN SAFE KEEPING —Horace Howe, the juntor, having been fully committed to be tried for the crime of murder in killing B F Kendall at Olympia, has been sent to Fort Steilacoom for safe keeping The fact that the prisoner would have no chance to escape but would be sure to be brought to answer for his offence against the law, has quieted public feeling at Olympia

STRIPLING THEM —The officers charged with the duty of preventing the sale of soldiers clothing and recovering that which has been illegally sold have commenced active operations at Dallas and other points.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS Experience having proved that simple means often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease renders it all at once desirable to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges for the Cough, or Irritation of the Throat to ever so slight an extent this precaution is more than attack may be effectually warded off Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice See advertisement dec16dawly3m

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success Indeed in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure in Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required

Legal Tender Notes this Day—83 and 84c.

Some action like that taken by the business men of this city, as noted above, was necessary to protect the citizens of this place from having the paper currency absorb all the gold in the country. Much as we may desire the Legal Tender Notes to be at par with gold, we are powerless to affect anything towards it, and must float in the current which we cannot control or direct. Lest the connection of Messrs. Ladd & Tilton with the above card may be misunderstood, we will state that their action in the matter is simply to procure the San Francisco quotations and have them published.

COMMON COUNCIL.—Council met last night Present—Hallock, Holmes, Silver, Williams and Mr. President. Three petitions for licenses to sell liquor, in quantities from a gallon down, were granted; and a petition for a lamp-post at the corner of First and Morrison streets, was not granted.

The resignation of Stephen Coffin, a member of the Common Council, was read and accepted.

A communication from Protection Co No 2, was received, refusing to accept the engine which the Willamettes have relinquished for their use, unless it may be temporarily. It was referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Report of the City Collector was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Report of the City Marshal, in regard to the small-pox hospital, explanatory of how the expenses of Auguste Barnhart were incurred, and of the disposition of certain moneys belonging to said Barnhart.

Report of the City Treasurer was received and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. Cash on hand, $2,703 99.

Claim of Brelsford & Ewery for $19 25, for burying small-pox patient, was presented and ordered paid.

The claim of J. F McCoy, City Recorder, for fees in cases of misdemeanor, where fines had not been collected, for $25 75, was ordered paid. Bill of City Marshal in cases of the same character for $44 80 was ordered paid.

The City Marshal's claim for $57 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Claim of the Street Commissioner for sundry expenditures and repairing streets, amounting to $45, was ordered paid.

Claim of Wasserman & Co, for rent of ... Room, $140, was referred to Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses.

Claim of O. Risley, for rent of small pox hospital, $20—not acted on.

Several smaller claims were presented and ordered paid; also, the bill of Sherlock & Co, $11 32 was ordered paid.

Claim of James Burk, for rent of Engine House of No. 3, $40, was ordered paid.

Claim of Portland Gas-light Company for $183, and another for $2 35, were ordered paid.

An ordinance establishing the grades on certain streets was introduced by Mr. Hallock. The streets are those which are noted in a resolution passed over a month since, and the figures of which, in tabular form, were published some time since in this paper.

Mr. Holmes introduced a resolution to the effect that "paragon burners" shall be allowed on all the street lamps in this city.

Pending a discussion of a point of order, Messrs. Silvers and Williams "went out to stand," and the Council adjourned.

THE REASON.—There was considerable feeling manifested at the Common Council last night, on the subject of certain charges for the care of the small pox patient, Auguste Barnhart. It appears that there was one charge for sugar at seventy-five cents a pound, and there was also whisky for the nurse, which was ordered by the physician. Officers of the Council should be too careful in buying on account of the city, under orders from the Council. Whisky and sugar are very good, but it may be used too much.

SANITARY SUBSCRIPTIONS.—The subscriptions to the Sanitary Fund in Washington Territory have reached $4,520 77, most of which is from the Sound district. The liberal subscriptions in the towns up the Columbia river have been sent to the Commission through other sources, and there may be other sums that have been forwarded which are not taken into account in the amount stated above.

BOISE NEWS.—By arrivals direct from above, we learn that about 2,000 people are already at Boise mines. A large part of these have gone out since the winter commenced, in spite of the inclemency of the season.—Fortunately, the weather is very favorable for the time of year, compared to what it was last winter. The character of Boise, for richness, is established beyond a doubt.

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any thing near so efficacious in relieving pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning noon and night. It will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia and your food distresses your stomach after eating take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time, it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold as though you were going to have a fever take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

Thoughts on Economy.

It is thought by many that unnecessary expenditures are beneficial to the circulation of capital just as though the circulation of capital without the production of economizing of real value could be universally productive of the elements of wealth

Not a little reflection on some of the principles involved in the science of political economy shows the fallacy of such reasoning It is indeed true that such expenditures often tend to enrich certain individuals, but they just as surely tend to impoverish others Take, for illustration the article of tobacco, from the importation of which the British government alone derives an annual revenue of $28 000,000 Now, it is admitted by all that tobacco as generally used, is of no benefit to the consumer, indeed, its uses are far perverbal ancedi by its abuses, but overlooking this fact, we see that, unlike food it does not strengthen and nourish the physical system, neither, like clothing, does it shelter our bodies from the inclemency of the weather, nor like flowers, pictures and other ornaments of similar nature, does it tend to refine and elevate the mind, and those spiritual qualities which distinguish the soul of man from the instinctive mind of the brute In short, it does the consumer no good whatever, and is, in reality, a capital of the most unproductive kind, while food clothing, &c, are productive capital, whatever benefit may be derived from their use

Suppose an agriculturist in America raises a quantity of tobacco, it then goes through the hands of the tobacconists and one or more merchants, each adding to the pecuniary—not the intrinsic—value of the weed, by which addition of value each gets pay for the time, labor, &c, expended by the tobacconist and merchant, being so much real gain to the capital of the country All time and labor below the net profits, cannot be reckoned as a clear gain, as they might have been applied with equal advantage in some other department, and are, in reality, so much capital expended in its production The cost of transportation again increases the price of the tobacco, and then the duties imposed by the government, where it is imported, raises the price still higher, and then before reaching the consumer, the merchants through whose hands it goes, put on the 'finishing touch" That part of the price which forms the net profits of the European merchant is not lost to the country where the tobacco is consumed, although it is lost to the consumer Neither does the country lose the duties collected from it as an import, for the government must impose taxes of some kind, for its support, but the consumer pays more than his share of the government expenses, provided he consumes other taxable importations equally with the nonconsumer of tobacco The other portion of the cost, however, is a dead loss both to the consumer himself and to the country where it is consumed, the tobacco being no real equivalent for the money thus expended Not only to the consumer and the country where they are consumed, are all kinds of unproductive capital a dead loss but also to the world —for the time labor and capital expended in their production might equally as well be applied to the production of such capital as would be productive Money, too, paid for unproductive capital might just as well be given to the persons receiving it, without as with the intrinsically valueless remuneration Or, as far as the economy of the question is concerned it might as well be stolen in order to keep it in circulation Tobacco, however, is but a single item in the list of articles composing the unproductive capital of the world and unhappily, America has done her full share in their consumption

What a vast amount of money do we, even now, spend simply for show There is that one little item of imported flowers for ladies' bonnets to say nothing of domestic ones, the cost is greater than railroad iron, and wounded soldiers often suffer for want of articles of comfort, which such money would help to bring them In many towns in New England, the consumption of tobacco, in its various forms exceeds the whole amount paid for taxes on all kinds of property, while there is scarcely a town whose appropriations for educational purposes equals this self imposed tax!

Nothing can be considered unproductive capital which tends to make men wiser and better, and to elevate humanity in the scale of progress and civilization Millions are spent annually in dress to satisfy the requisitions of that tyrant of tyrants, fashion, which are really needed in the same department to answer the demands of undepraved taste, and to preserve the health and strength of the physical system

The principles of political economy were formerly supposed to be involved only in the pecuniary affairs of nations and this idea is conveyed in the definition which many economists have given to the term — but it is evident that those principles, like all others, are of "universal application," many of them going beyond mere pecuniary questions and are applicable in any and every department of life Economy combined with perseverance energy and industry is the great leaven of success in every laudable undertaking —that [illegible] most illimitable power to raise humanity to a higher scale of civilization Economy of time bears the standard of victory up the steep ascent of the hill of knowledge the few spare moments saved daily from the haunts of idleness and useless pleasure being sufficient to make any man of medium talents rich in mental wealth In Napoleon's early days while in the military academy some of his fellow pupils wasted much of their time playing billiards which he however seldom visited After words—I think it was when appointed to the command of the army of Italy —he called at the shop and was recognized by its mistress as the young soldier who had spent a little of his time there "Ah Madam said Napoleon Oh I dare say I should not now in command of the army of Italy It was the same great man who afterwards perceived the idea that it was the extra five minutes that saved victories Take care of the pence said Franklin and the pounds will take care of themselves Take care of the spare moments and you thus save to yourselves years of time otherwise unoccupied Save up to yourself daily a few of those proposition of whose aggregate composed the sum total of all knowledge and you will at length possess a large share of imperishable wealth of the most productive kind,—productive of happiness and usefulness to yourself and others in this world and in the future —N L Farmer

SUFFERING IN ENGLAND —The Boston Journal of the 4th of December contains the following in relation to the suffering of the manufacturing laborers in England

On the 30th of October there were 208 621 persons receiving relief in the twenty four unions of the manufacturing districts This is an average of upward of ten per cent of the entire population In one of the unions it is more than fifty per cent In others it is from eleven to seventeen per cent The weekly expenditure for the relief of the suffering operatives at that time was £15 158 which allowed a stipend of only 1s 1d to 1s 6d or 2b to 33 cents, for each individual to provide food, fire and clothing! And this among people who have been earning £130 094 weekly, or upward of £5 000 000 yearly Mr Cobden says £10,000 000 would be nearer the true sum What is worse, this paltry allowance is likely to be diminished rather than increased such is the selfishness and inhumanity of the British millowners and aristocracy Much of the burden falls upon the rate payers of the middle classes whose means are also constantly diminishing Every week thousands are added to the list of paupers who include not only factory operatives but small tradesmen, clerks &c In one town the authorities had the ineffable meanness to strike off from the roll of burgesses all those operatives who were in the receipt of parish relief, thus insulting and humiliating men whose only crime is lack of employment and food

It would be supposed that when gaunt famine and fell disease were preying upon hundreds of thousands of British subjects who have helped largely to make England the richest nation on the globe her lordly aristocrats and plethoric mill owners and capitalists, urged by the instincts of a common humanity, would at once cut their purse strings and put their hands deeply into their pockets, to roll back the tide of want and misery, disease and death The contrary has been the fact With but few exceptions only the most miserly and has been rendered, as the contributions show and the local papers state One sporting nobleman who draws £70,000 a year in rents from the town of Ashton, where one half of the population is dependent upon charity for their daily bread has subscribed but £100 Another with an equal income gives but £500 At Preston the mill owners have done little or nothing One has given £500 for the purchase of fuel another has made a donation of blankets and flannel, and a third distributes a certain quantity of bread and soup to his hands The poor rates and grants from London and Manchester are also at the sole means of feeding and clothing the myriads of unemployed in Lancashire

Strong brown paper is now manufactured at the Salisbury Paper Mills in Orange Co New York, from cut tails the product of the wild flag growing in low grounds all over the North The proprietor, Mr Oakley is experimenting with a view of making white paper, also from the same material

Proclamation by the Governor

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, PORTLAND OREGON
January 6 1863

By the President of the United States through Brigadier General George Wright commanding the Department of the Pacific and Brigadier General Benjamin Alvord commanding the District of Oregon I have been requested to raise six additional companies required to complete the 1st Regiment of Cavalry Oregon Volunteers They will be needed the coming Spring on the frontiers of this State and Washington Territory and for an expedition against the Snake Indians who have so long been mercilessly engaged in murdering emigrants and murdering our fellow citizens I cannot doubt that the citizens of Oregon who have always promptly responded to any demand for their military services will in like manner respond to this call, thereby showing their loyalty to the Government and aiding in chastising murdering bands of Indians which infest our frontiers

The enlisted men, when mounted will be supplied with horses by the United States it being understood that they will be mounted or not as shall be deemed advisable by the Government

Propositions to raise a whole company, which will furnish their own horses and military equipments, may be entertained The men are in such cases entitled to forty cents a day for the use and risk of their horses and horse equipments

Each company will consist of one hundred enlisted men and when mustered into the service of the United States to serve for three years, unless sooner discharged

Recruiting officers will be immediately appointed at Portland Dalles City and perhaps at other places By the Governor
